Environmental Engineer

Job Description: They use engineering to improve recycling, waste disposal, and seek to better control air and water pollution.

What does an Environmental Engineer do?
- Design projects leading to environmental protection, such as water reclamation facilities, air pollution control systems, and operations that convert waste to energy
- Inspect industrial and municipal facilities and programs to ensure compliance with environmental regulations
- Prepare, review, and update environmental investigation reports
- Provide technical support for environmental remediation projects and legal actions
- Analyze scientific data and do quality-control checks

Your Interests:
- Do you like working outdoors?
- Are you creative?
- Do you like to solve problems?
- Are you good at communicating your ideas to others?
- Are you good at working with a team?

Outlook: Green

Average Salary - $37.86 hourly, $78,740 annual
Projected Job Openings – 11,300 over the next 10 years

Education/Program of Study:
- Minimum Bachelor's Degree in Environmental Engineering